

Project and Programme Management Training

Course Overview

The aim of this course is to understand what project and programme management is, introduce how we think about it at PatelMiller and cover the key terminology, tools and techniques that will be useful in leading any project or programme

Benefits

The course is designed to help you:

- ✓ Understand the difference between project management and programme management, and what this means in Retail
- ✓ Know when to set up project and programme management capabilities
- ✓ Become confident with the different approaches and key tools typically used in Retail Programmes
- ✓ Manage stakeholder relationships effectively
- ✓ Establish and implement governance to ensure alignment with business strategy

Our Approach

- This training focuses on the key aspects of running an effective project or programme based on our experience
- Topics covered include setting up a programme, planning, reporting and risk identification
- The course involves discussions and exercises throughout the day to ensure continuous engagement
- Participants receive key templates for developing and running a programme as used by PatelMiller
- We also provide 'hints and tips' based on our learnings from projects, including our very own 'Intelligent Programme Office' methodology
- Understanding the importance of change management

Format

Although there is no minimum number required, we would expect 10-15 people to attend this course to allow for group discussions and case study exercises

The course is aimed at those looking for the foundations and best practices of Project and Programme management
